OF THE

SOCIAL MORALITY COMMITTEE

THE War Work Council of the National Board of the Young Womens Christian Associations was organized June 7th, 1917. A Committee on Social Morality was appointed, of which Mrs. Robert E. Speer, president of the National Board, became chairman. The following members constituted the committee:

Mrs. Robert E. Speer
Mrs. John Meigs
Mrs. Josephus Daniels
Mrs. Harold Ickes
Mrs. Robert Lovett
Mrs. Wallace Hamilton
Mrs. Francis Hyde
Mrs. Edwin Grice
Miss Mary Woolley
Mrs. J. Ross Stevenson
Mrs. Robert Dickinson
Miss Ann Wiggan
Katherine Bement Davis, Ph.D.

Miss Eliza R. Butler and Dr. Anna L. Brown were appointed secretaries of the committee. Later Dr. Josephine Hemenway Kenyon was appointed Supervisor of Lecturers, and Dr. Eleanor Bertine, Director of the Student Program.

During the four years preceding the war, Mrs. Speer, Miss Butler and Dr. Brown had served together as members of a Commission on Social Morality which had been appointed to study the question of fundamentals in the social training of women and girls with particular reference to sex education. This Commission had, with the greatest care, selected a few lecturers to present the subject in normal schools, and the colleges and universities whose graduates often enter the teaching profession, the object being to equip as many teachers as possible with what thinkers on the subject of sex education have come to regard as the basic principles of the whole problem of social morality.

The Committee on Social Morality of the War Work Council proceeded at once to organize a Bureau of Lecturers, using the existing staff of four lecturers as a nucleus. Because of careful investigation of speakers in the preceding years, the committee was able to add ten to the staff of four, making a group of fourteen specially qualified women physicians who agreed to go upon call to any camp or cantonment community to make a patriotic appeal to girls and to speak to mothers upon the necessity of guarding and guiding the younger girls in the communities who were tempted to throw away conventions under stress of the appeal of the army uniform.

During June, 1917, lectures were given in six cities in Texas and Oklahoma. In July a series of lectures was attempted in the vicinity of Camp Funston. The intense heat resulted in a small attendance, and no further effort was made to give lectures in cantonment communities until October. The work of the Committee was mainly through publicity during the summer. From October on through the autumn and early winter, there was a steady development of interest in the lecture program. The necessity for advance work in communities which asked for lectures, led to the appointment of organizers through whom schedules for lectures were made, with resulting increase in attendance and interest. The bureau staff grew to fifty-six (56) in number, forty (40) of whom were at work in different parts of the country during this season. The reports from the field show that the natural antagonism to public discussion of questions relating to sex was greatest in the communities of the south and southwest where the largest cantonments were located. There was, also, a general sentiment in all parts of the country somewhat opposed to the introduction of the subject to groups of women and girls by an organization with a religious purpose. The patriotic appeal made by the members of the Lecture Bureau carried great weight, but there were many people afraid to admit to so broad a forum as the war had presented, speakers who might be supposed to represent the Young Women's Christian Association. It was this fact that led to the consideration of linking up the work of the Social Morality Committee of the War Work Council with some section of popular government propaganda, preferably the Women's Committee, Council of National Defense. As a result of consultation with many persons connected in one way or another with the Government, a Section on Women's Work under the Government was agreed upon as a channel through which education could be promoted.

Finally, in February, 1918, this section was appointed to function in the Social Hygiene Division of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, and on March 15th, 1918, the Bureau of Lecturers of the War Work Council was made the official bureau of social hygiene lecturers for the Section on Women's Work. It had not been the intention of the Social Morality Committee to change its own war program with its emphasis on the patriotic service of women and girls expressed in social standards in war time, but the Social Hygiene Division required of it a program urging the necessity of keeping men fit to fight by the avoidance of venereal disease. The Bureau of Lecturers conformed to this requirement without ceasing to point to the moral and spiritual values of square conduct as an expression of loyalty to the cause for which America was fighting.

Up to March 15, 1918, lectures had been given as per the following schedule:

STUDENT PROGRAM

At the time the Section on Women's Work of the Commission on Training Camp Activities took direction of the community lectures on social morality, the work in the colleges and universities had been carried on for four years under the Social Morality Commission. Since the approach to the subject of sex education for the college women differs materially from that appropriate for the community at large, it was decided to omit colleges, universities and normal schools from the government program, leaving that work to be done as in the past, by the Young Women's Christian Association, the two movements being parallel and in close cooperation, though independent.

In order adequately to meet this responsibility, the Student Program was greatly enlarged and an attempt made to cover the country systematically by offering a series of four lectures and hours for personal consultation to all the larger institutions, especially where the war had created its peculiar problem in social relationships through the existence of a Student Army Training Corps. Organizers were sent out to interview the various presidents and deans, explaining in greater detail than is possible by correspondence the nature of the talks, so overcoming the perfectly natural hesitation felt by educators in allowing a strange doctor to address their students on a subject that has been at times so badly handled in the past.

At the outset the lecturers were brought together in a conference for the discussion of subject matter and method of presentation. Every physician submitted her outline, thus making the ideas and experience of each available for all.

The object in the movement was two-fold; first, to substitute an attitude of honest, open, scientific interest in the subject of sex instead of the prevalent shame-faced, bated-breathed curiosity, an attitude leading to a desire for an intelligent control of this great force in life through having looked at it squarely and unafraid, and seen that its expression should be and could be made beautiful; and, second, to give enough of the facts of sex, physical, psychological and social, to form the basis on which an understanding of life can be built, which shall lead to the power of greater conscious control. The emphasis has been especially on the psychological aspect, because it has been the weakest link in the chain in the past, and because a knowledge of the nature of the primitive impulses is as necessary to a sound morality as a knowledge of physiology is to rational hygiene. The attempt has been to collect the facts relating to the subject from the sciences of anatomy, physiology, hygiene, psychology and sociology and to present them in a manner worthy of the academic environment of the college, but always with a view to their practical bearing in helping toward healthier bodies, more satisfying, creative emotional expression, and a cleaner commonwealth.

The fact that such a bureau met a conscious need was proved by the welcome given the speakers by the colleges and universities all over the country. A very few said that a local physician was already giving a course such as was offered. A few were afraid to try the experiment, but the large majority accepted with the utmost cordiality. Since January 7th, when the intensive work of the bureau really began, up to May 1st, series of four lectures have been given in institutions reaching approximately 54,000 girls. The ignorance that has been found among the students, combined at times with a curious degree of sophistication obtained from modern literature and drama, and the enthusiastic gratitude expressed for a straight, honest presentation of the subject, have constantly deepened the conviction of the value of this method of making a beginning in the field of sex education. But this conviction is not incompatible with the hope that the girls reached in college to-day, as the mothers and teachers of the next generation, may do away with the necessity of a series of lectures, by putting sex education where it belongs, in the home and school, in the form of full and frank answers to the child's questions, at whatever age asked, whether they be about sun or stars or wind or babies. This work is to prepare the mothers and teachers of the future.

In some instances committees of representative women were asked to advise with the Directors of the Lecture Program and the organizers who scheduled lectures in their localities and, by their backing of the program and moral support, to develop the Social Hygiene work in their respective communities.

The members of the Committee of Women Executives for the Girls' Division of the New York War Camp Community Service, served with the above committee.

Temporary committees of representative women were formed in many of the larger cities to work with the organizers in arranging an intensive lecture program.

The Section on Women's Work wishes to record the great help and cordial cooperation given by the members of the committees mentioned above; by Young Women's Christian Association representatives over the United States; by the Woman's Divisions of the State Councils of National Defense; by Chambers of Commerce; by employers of women; by the General Federation of Women's Clubs; by Women's Medical Societies; by Local Women's Clubs; by the American Social Hygiene Association; the Oregon Social Hygiene Society; other state Social Hygiene Societies; by the Association of Collegiate Alumnae; by State Boards of Health; by the Y. M. C. A.; the National Council of Jewish Women; and by broad-minded public-spirited men and women of every denomination and faith, who by their interest, enthusiasm and backing made possible the success of the work.

As stated above, the work of the Section on Women's Work was financed by the Social Morality Committee of the War Work Council of the National Board, Young Womens Christian Associations. (Financial Report Page 69.)

The Section believes this contribution of the Social Morality Committee in which the individuality of the donor was submerged in the interest of the work, to be of inestimable value to women and girls. The program made possible in this war emergency we hope will prove to have given a stimulus to the constructive thinking of women and girls the effect of which will be marked not only upon this generation but in larger degree upon the next.

Industrial Work

In the industrial work, form letters were sent to employers of women. Pamphlets, posters and pay-envelope enclosures were printed and distributed to the employers at a nominal cost. Lectures given in industrial plants are included in Report of Lectures (page 14).

Exclusive of the above material used in connection with the industrial work, a total of over one hundred thousand pamphlets were printed and freely distributed. Eleven different pamphlets were published to meet the needs of various classes of women and girls.

Requests for literature came from organizations of every description. Large numbers have been sent to Social Hygiene Societies, Social Agencies of various kinds, Representatives of the Law Enforcement Division of the Commission, Red Cross Workers, Directors of Girls' Divisions in the War Camp Community Service and Local and State Boards of Health.

This work was directed from the office at 105 West 40th Street. For list of publications and details see (page 70).

Film: "The End of the Road"

The scenario of this film was written by Dr. Katharine Bement Davis in collaboration with Lieut. Edward H. Griffith. It was produced for the Section on Women's Work by the Motion Picture Section of the Social Hygiene Division of the Commission on Training Camp Activities (page 73).

It is difficult to make a definite report of that part of the work which was of a distinctly advisory nature, such as the correspondence between the Director and members of such organizations as the General Federation of Women's Clubs:—and also individual women interested in bettering conditions in their local communities.

GENERAL PAMPHLETS

"Clean Communities" and "Do Your Bit" were reprinted from pamphlets published by the Section on Men's Work. They are both general pamphlets aimed to stimulate interest in the Government's Social Hygiene program.

"Women's Share in a National Service." This little folder has been extensively used. More than fifteen thousand copies were distributed to members of National Sororities through the secretaries of these organizations. It has also been very largely used by Social Hygiene Committees and other women's organizations.

"The End of the Road," which describes the moving picture of the same title, has been used to introduce and advertise the film, and has been supplied to organizations under whose auspices the film has been shown.

"Laws and Law Enforcement" was written for club women and other groups who wished to inform themselves on the subject of laws. It has been found of value to the Legislative Committees of State Federations of Women's Clubs.

"Mothers of America" has been much asked for by women's clubs and parent teachers' associations. "Mothers of America" and "The Girl's Part" written by Dr. Mabel S. Ulrich were reprinted by permission of the Minnesota State Board of Health.

"The Nation's Call to Young Women" and "The Girl's Part" have been distributed without charge to girls employed in industry. This has in some instances been done through the employer, over fifteen hundred of each pamphlet having been thus distributed. As the two pamphlets are advertised for free distribution in the industrial folder, a large number of requests for them have been received from individual girls.

The reprint of Dr. Davis's article on "Social Hygiene and the War: Women's Part in the Campaign" gave a history of the Section and its work and was used for purposes of explanation and information. It was also used to some extent as propaganda, being sent to lecturers and organizers, women's clubs, health officers, etc.

"For a New World" was used as a general pamphlet for women and girls. A large number were distributed through women's clubs and societies of various kinds as well as by organizers and lecturers.

"The Soldier, Uncle Sam and You," and "What is the Government Doing for Your Boy" were widely used by the organizers in the community work in connection with the lecture program.

Bulletin

The Section prepared a weekly Bulletin based on data and statistics from official sources and general current literature.

This was issued for the lecturers and others interested in the work to keep them in touch with any activities and developments pertinent to the subject.

Films

The film "The End of the Road" was widely used in connection with the lectures given by the Bureau of Lecturers. Twenty-five copies were used for scheduling. The film was shown with an introductory lecture 200 hundred times, approximate attendance 119,467 women and girls. The film was scheduled without the lecture, approximately 50 times. In addition, copies were loaned to the Army Section Social Hygiene Division, Social Hygiene Societies, The Associations of Grand Jurors, Women's Clubs, Rotary Clubs, Civic Associations; Representatives of the Law Enforcement Division,

Y. M. C. A. and State Boards of Health for showings to definite groups.

Various State Boards of Health and the Army, Navy, and Y. M. C. A. have bought copies of the film through the Motion Picture Section, Social Hygiene Division Commission on Training Camp Activities.

In December, 1918, arrangements were made by the Social Hygiene Division for the showing of the film through especially supervised commercial channels.

The copies of the film in use on March 1st, 1919, were turned over to the Social Morality Committee of the War Work Council, National Board Young Women's Christian Associations, which had financed the entire work of this Section and had bought the 25 films which were used by its Lecture Bureau.

Other Films Used by the Section

Several copies of the educational film "How Life Begins," owned by the Social Morality Committee were used in connection with lectures.

This film was found especially valuable for Mothers or groups of younger girls. (Lecture Report, page 77.)

Exhibit

A stereomotorgraph and slides, a short reel film of scenes from "The End of the Road," and posters and pamphlets for distribution were arranged for the "War Exhibition, The United States and Allied Governments."

From December 13th, 1918, to February 12th, 1919, a representative of the Section on Women's Work traveled with the Exhibit.

The cities in which the Exhibit were shown were San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Toledo, Detroit and Milwaukee.

Up to March 1st approximately four million people had attended the War Exposition and viewed the Exhibit.

The following pamphlets—

"For a New World"

"To Girls in War Time"

"Women's Share in a National Service"

"Your Country Needs You" were distributed upon requests by a representative who reported great interest shown by both men and women in the Exhibit.

Report of Lectures

From March 15, 1918, to March 1st, 1919, 6197 lectures were given with an actual attendance of 969,217.

Throughout the entire campaign only one of the lecturers was compelled to withdraw on account of illness. In no case was an arranged schedule cancelled except in deference to local or State Board of Health rulings during the influenza epidemic.

A schedule of all the lectures as arranged each week over the United States was sent to the Director of the Social Hygiene Division; to the General Medical Board, Washington, D. C. and to each branch office of the Bureau of Lecturers, so that the activities of the Lecture Bureau and the scope of the work could be followed from week to week.

Detail of Lecture Program

When a request for lectures was received by the Bureau,—or a locality was chosen,—an organizer was sent to meet the representative men and women of the city. In some cases, a temporary local committee was formed. In others, the advice of these representative people was sought as to the best program for their community,—the point being always to enlist local interest before actual lectures were given.

Lectures were scheduled for all types of women and girls in the community, using existing organizations or, whenever possible, combining these to form larger groups. In many instances mass meetings were arranged. Representative men and women of the city were addressed at an introductory meeting and their interest awakened for the coming campaign.

Employers of women were most cooperative, and in the vast majority of instances gave factory or store time for one or three lectures to their women employees. Many times the lecturers were asked to return by the girls themselves, if one lecture only had been scheduled for that particular establishment.

A lecture to the mothers and teachers of High School girls was usually scheduled before any lectures were given to the girls themselves. At this meeting the urgent need as well as the subject matter of lectures given to girls of High School age was presented. In addition mothers and teachers were invited to attend the series of three lectures given to the girls. Through the cooperation of the school officials, these were usually given during a regular school period.

Publications

The following pamphlets were published by the Social Morality Committee of the War Work Council to meet definite girl needs. They were greatly in demand by the girls themselves and were widely used in connection with the lectures:

	Printed	Distributed	Cost
Mothers All.....	150,000	113,275	$1,440.00
Girls a Home Guard.....	155,000	121,575	1,511.00

TOTAL.....	865,000	670,115	$7,511.00

Per Capita Cost of Lectures

Computed from the amount of money spent upon the organization and lecture work, the per capita cost for each woman or girl reached by the lecture program is $0.175.

IOWA CAMPAIGN

Iowa was one of the two states in which a definite state program was proposed. A careful survey of the state was made by Miss Esse V. Hathaway, the supervising organizer, and lectures were scheduled in practically all the larger cities and in many smaller centers.

Dr. Lenna L. Meanes, the supervising lecturer, developed a staff of five women physicians who could be released from the duties of private practice for the war emergency.

A plan was developed for Iowa which proved not only successful, but of great value to us in planning future organization work.

After the survey of the state, the supervising organizer visited the city chosen, met the representative men and women and enlisted their interest and backing. The assistant organizer then came for the detail of scheduling. Upon the completion of the detail of arranging the schedule, a staff of as many lecturers as were required arrived to carry the intensive program planned. Effort was made to reach every woman and girl in the town with lectures to women's clubs, parent teacher associations and to all other possible groups of women; to girls in high school; to girls in the industrial establishments; girls clubs, etc.

When the staff moved on to the next community it was with the feeling that the message had been carried to every individual girl. The interest aroused; the large number of personal conferences; the wholesome reaction which followed the lectures, and the demand for the right kind of follow-up work speak for the excellence of work done.

PENNSYLVANIA CAMPAIGN

A state wide program was planned for Pennsylvania. A definite effort was made to plot out a campaign which would radiate from the larger cities as centers and reach the women and girls of the smaller communities. The results were successful beyond our expectations. Introductory meetings were held in Philadelphia and in Pittsburgh. These meetings were called by Health and Recreation Department No. 10 of the Women's Division, Council of National Defense, the representatives of which agreed to back the program in each of the 67 counties in Pennsylvania.

To Mrs. J. Willis Martin, Pennsylvania State Chairman Woman's Division Council of National Defense, to Mrs. John Gribbell, State Director of Department No. 10 of the Council, to Mrs. John Meigs also of Department No. 10 and to every county Chairman great credit is due for their untiring efforts to make the campaign a success.

Miss Caroline Colvin, the supervising organizer was given a desk and telephone at the Liberty Building, Philadelphia, through the courtesy of the Council of National Defense. Upon Dr. Ellen C. Potter, the supervising lecturer, devolved the responsibility of developing a staff of lecturers and the success of the campaign, the wholesome reaction following the lectures and the many requests for continuation work, speak for the high standard of presentation attained by the women physicians on the staff.

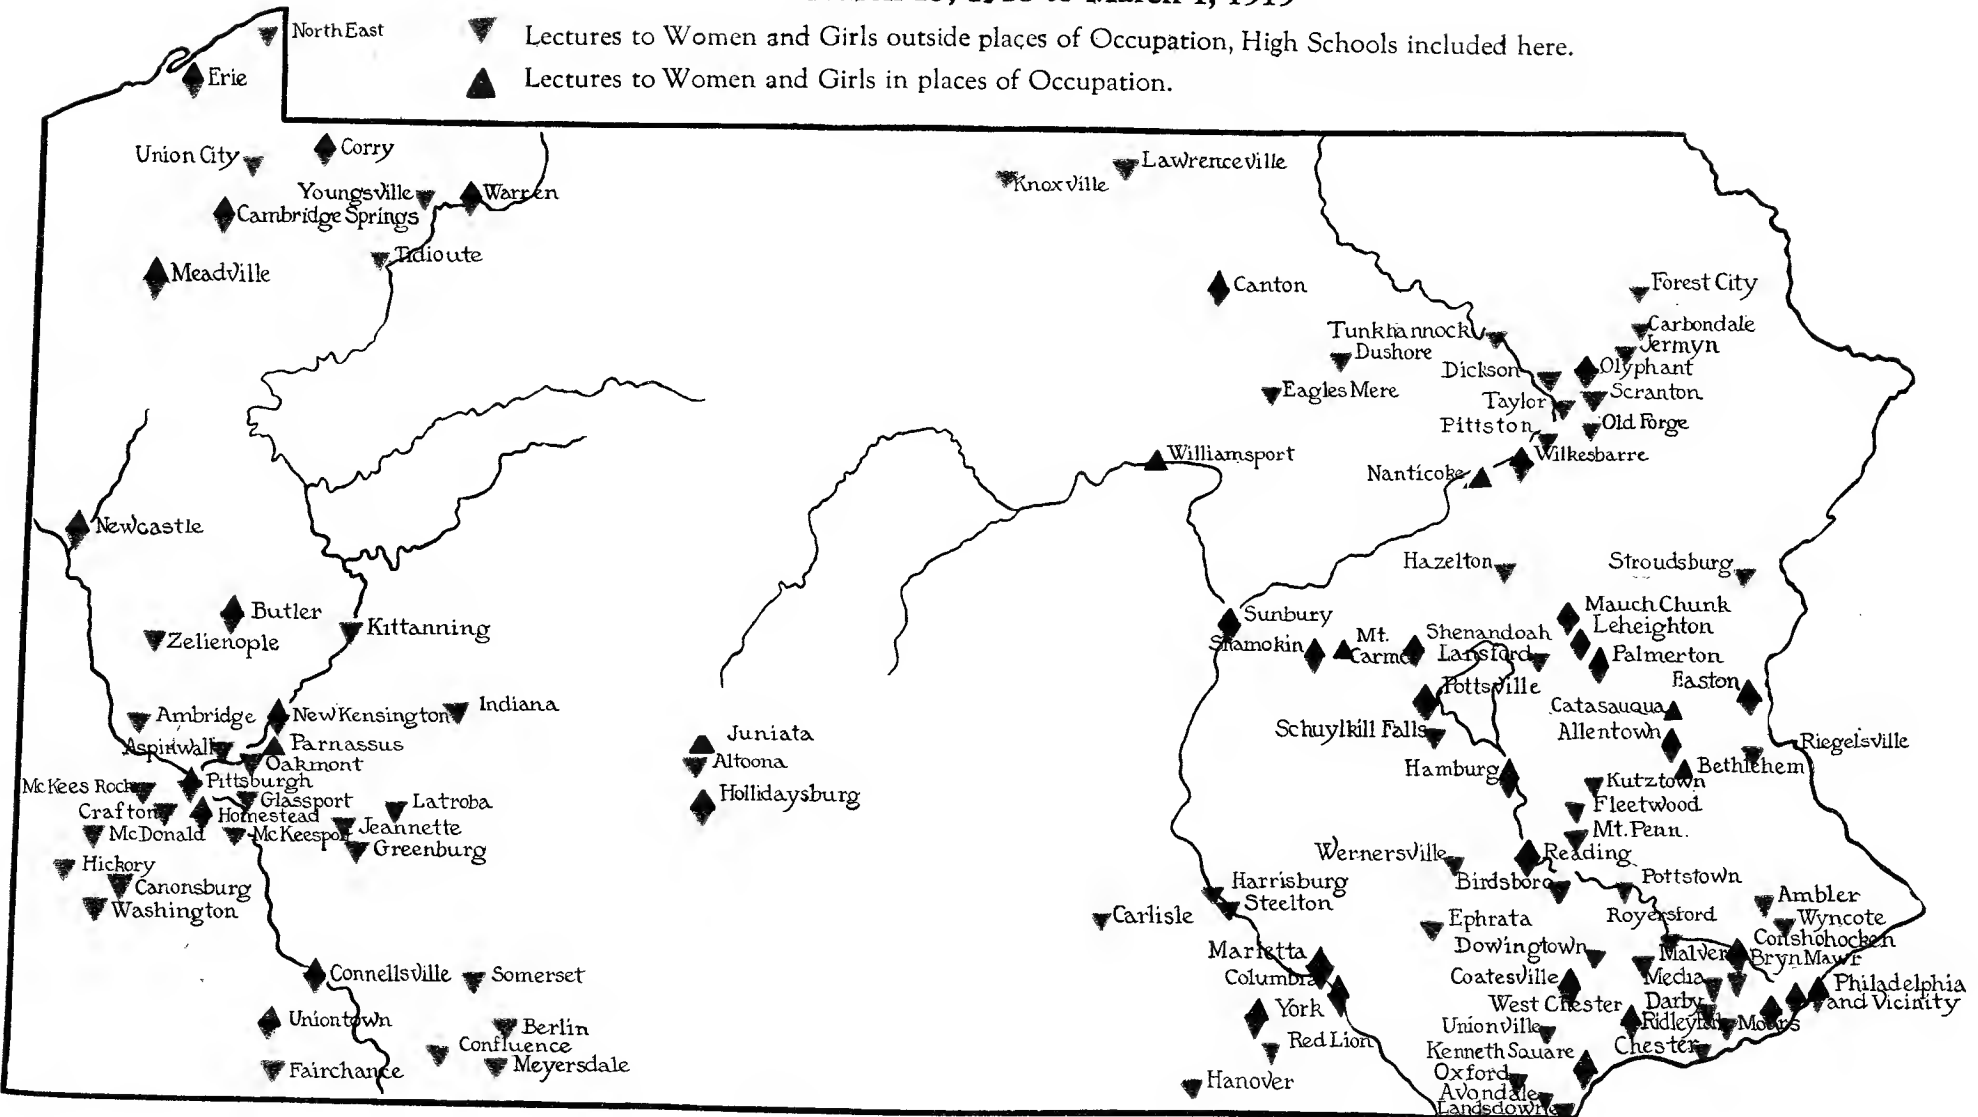

The map of Pennsylvania shows each community which was reached with the type of lecture indicated.

SOCIAL HYGIENE DIVISION

March 29, 1919.

Dr. Josephine H. Kenyon,
Associate Chairman, Bureau of Lecturers,
War Work Council, Young Women's Christian Association,
600 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

Dear Dr. Kenyon:

May I not ask you to transmit to the War Work Council of the Young Women's Christian Association an expression of appreciation of their support of the Section on Women's Work of the Social Hygiene Division of the Commission on Training Camp Activities? The organizing and management of the Bureau of Lecturers which was placed at the service of the Section on Women's Work and the financing of the work of the entire Section made possible a most unique and effective campaign for Social Hygiene. I hear from every side expressions of admiration for the way the work of the section was conducted and of respect for the ability of the personnel engaged.

The nation has benefited from this most valuable enlightenment of its women through lectures, motion pictures, and printed publicity. The work will insure a saner view and clearer vision in matters of venereal disease control and will foster a higher standard of personal conduct and civic cleanliness.

To you and Dr. Katharine B. Davis special thanks are due for your untiring service as Acting Director and Director of the Section. The success of the work must be attributed in large part to the vision of the leaders.

Cordially yours,

W. A. Sawyer
Major, Medical Corps,
Acting Director, Social Hygiene Division.

Resumption of Regular Work by Social Morality Committee

The government program was discontinued on March 1st, 1919. Instantly all community lecture work was stopped throughout the country, and the organizers were summoned to headquarters for a conference on new methods to be adopted under the regime of the War Work Council. The organizers returned after the middle of March to the fields to which they were assigned. A new staff of lecturers was organized for the purpose of carrying out a new program. The staff was composed of those physicians who were in a position to continue to give time as lecturers after the government program had ceased. It will be easily understood that a large number of physicians who were willing to leave their work at the behest of the Government could not indefinitely be away from their home base in the service of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The Government had insisted upon a straight social hygiene program, in which much emphasis was placed upon venereal disease and the necessity for keeping the men fit to fight. This program was taken over on March first, 1919 by the United States Public Health Service.

The Social Morality Committee resumed its own type of work, which was the presentation of such facts as would contribute to the social training of girls and young women, with information necessary to their guidance in the general stress and excitement of the demobilization period. The great objective is character training, with a view to helping women make their social practices correspond to their highest individual codes of ethics. Sex morality is but a part of the great general morality upon which the safety of society depends. It was to present this type of appeal that a new staff of organizers and lecturers set forth. They were not to ignore the existence of social evils and diseases, but to point the way to their eradication, which could be brought about only by sound public sentiment.

Since March 1st the following lectures have been arranged:

On June 2nd, 1919, the Social Morality Committee completed two years of experimental work in communities where, up to the beginning of America's entrance into the war, no general program had been attempted. The way for the proper type of education in the subject of social responsibilities, especially in the field of sex relationships seems to be wide open. Schools and colleges have shown their vital interest in this work by the introduction of outside lecturers to discuss with students questions about which so many types of opinion have prevailed.

Where doubt existed as to the wisdom of such a program, eager insistence upon the necessity for continuing is now expressed. The demand for the work is country-wide. The Committee in making this report to the War Work Council wishes to express its appreciation of the support given by the Council, and of the remarkable talent which was placed at its service in the personnel of the lecturers and organizers and the supervisors—the latter physicians who have devoted practically their entire time to making the work of the Committee an unqualified success.
